Expona Flow PUR

Hardwearing and stylish wood effect sheet vinyl flooring from Polyflor's popular Expona Flow PUR collection was selected to cover floors throughout the new "goPhysio" clinic in Eastleigh, Hampshire.

Expona Flow PUR heterogeneous flooring in the Roasted Limed Ash design was fitted in five treatment rooms, exercise studio and reception area at the spacious and modern clinic which offers a range of services including physiotherapy, rehabilitation treatment, sports massage and pilates classes.

Installed by local flooring contractors GE Nichols Flooring Ltd, the sophisticated Roasted Limed Ash wood effect design features simple clean lines, subtle tonal variations and a surface texture for an authentic look.

Fiona Moir, Director of goPhysio commented, "This elegant ash flooring design helped us create the calming atmosphere we wanted in the new goPhysio clinic in time for its December 2016 launch. The fact that it is hardwearing and easy to maintain is also a big benefit for us."
