Decorative safety flooring from Polyflor was recently installed at the new home of Ysgol Dafydd Llwyd, a Welsh language primary school in Newtown, Wales.

Flooring from the Polysafe Wood fx PUR and Polysafe Vogue Ultra PUR ranges was fitted by Cardiff-based flooring contractors Puma Floors to the £8 million new build project managed by main contractors Willmott Dixon Construction and funded by Powys County Council and the Welsh Government. Polyflor's high performance flooring was selected to meet the demands of Ysgol Dafydd Llwyd's modern, new school building which can accommodate up to 300 pupils.

Polysafe Vogue Ultra PUR safety flooring in Woodland Grey was installed in the school's classrooms and toilet areas. High clarity timber effect Polysafe Wood fx PUR safety flooring in the Classic Oak shade was fitted in the school hall and conference room.

Sian Davies, Headteacher at Ysgol Dafydd Llwyd commented, "Our brand new facility has given our school community and the local area a real boost. Our vision has become a reality with this wonderful new building which has been designed to very high energy-saving standards."
